Joy of Reading at the China border village Chaglagam too!

Lohit Youth Library Network is a voluntary handholding of NGOs and youth groups, with institutions and Govt agencies. It has been striving since May 2007, to spread the joy of reading across eastern Arunachal Pradesh, from the Assam plains to the China border in the Anjaw district of Lohit valley. Its activities aim to develop reading tastes, skills and learning empowerment among reading-deprived remote rural and tribal communities.

We have also been supporting the local language communities to bring out reader-friendly children's books in their languages.

This calendar brings you glimpses of these experiences. A model that has contributed joy and fulfilment to volunteers and the community, and to strengthen the state's educational levels. A model of joyful voluntary learning outside the school framework and timings.

NGOs and institutions that support the Network: Education Care for Kids, Tezu; Forum of Library Activists, Medo; RPETA Trust, New Delhi; Dibang Youth Hostel, Roing; CALSOM Tezu; RIWATCH, Roing; ASSET, Wakro; 48 BRTF, Dimwe & Khun Ta Nav Society, Namsai.
